What is SALSER?

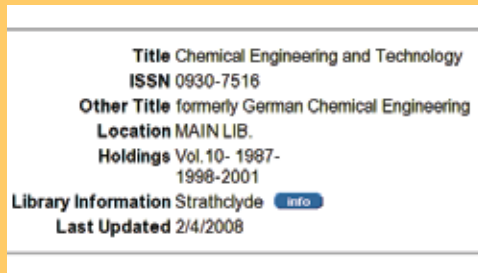

SALSER is a virtual union catalogue of serials holdings for Scottish universities, the municipal research libraries of Edinburgh and Glasgow, numerous smaller Scottish research libraries and the National Library of Scotland.

The freely available service to librarians and library users offers online information about continuing resources, including print and electronic serials, journals, periodicals, newspapers, annual reviews and reports, and conference proceedings, relevant to a range of academic disciplines and subject areas.

Through SALSER users can discover which serials are held where, particularly useful for Inter-Library Loan librarians.

SALSER also provides links to libraries' websites with useful information about library addresses, phone numbers, opening hours and lending services.
